Wash care instructions for All-season bamboo sleeping bag

Don't worry if your bag looks creased when it arrives, it won't always look like this! Because it's a natural fabric and, in order to keep it pure, we would NEVER add any anti-creasing chemicals, it can look a little wrinkled on arrival. It's also because we don't use plastic packaging (which would keep it nice and flat) as we like to avoid plastic wherever possible. Once you've washed the sleeping bag just hang it while still damp and you'll have a lovely, crease-free bag!

We like to consider the environment, so please try to line dry whenever possible and minimise the use of a tumble dryer.

Hang to dry immediately and do not leave wet in the machine.

Please do not dry clean this sleeping bag.

Bamboo is naturally antibacterial and dust mite resistant, therefore these bags need washing less than most. If you treat them well they will last you many years.
